see done. Now I realize the motion is dead. It cannot be reconsidered without unanimous consent but, at least, the balance of them, I would hope that we would adopt those to give Senator Burbach to do the thing that he has indicated a number of times that he wanted to help this body with.

PRESIDENT: Senator Kelly.

SENATOR KELLY: Mr. President, colleagues, the program and the platform and the procedure of the Rules Committee is very definite. We want to make major changes in the procedural rules that operate the Legislature. This is the charge that we believe belongs to the Rules Committee. We decided at a previous meeting, like ten days, two weeks ago, that we could do this by writing a new Rule book and submitting it to the Legislature for approval later in the session. The Committee felt and still feels that this would really be confusing to attempt to adopt a whole set of Rules. The alternative is to set the philosophy which is set in the very first Rule change that we made today and continue on through the Rule book and continue bringing Rule changes to the Legislature that lines up with that philosophy and this will be confusing every time we talk about it because you have 49 wide awake minds that are trying to figure out what would be best for the Legislature. It will still be confusing but the procedures should be improved. Your Rules Committee is working hard on that issue and will continue to bring you confusing issues.

PRESIDENT: Mr. Clerk.

CLERK: (Mike off) unanimous consent to add the names of Skarda and Dickinson to LB 434. It is a Committee bill.

PRESIDENT: Is there any objection. It is so granted.

CLERK: Mr. President, by Senator Clark, a statement, unanimous consent to insert in the Journal. It deals as follows: Read. See Page 407, Journal. Mr. President, I have one more motion if you want to take it up. I move the introduction of the attached bill. Signed Senator Schmit, Chairman of the Ag Committee. It's a bill for an act to provide for payment on sales of livestock as prescribed.

PRESIDENT: Well, Senator Syas has been trying to get the chair's attention. Well, I think the Speaker has a motion to adjourn on the desk, so if that is your motion, the Speaker has that. There is a motion to adjourn. All in favor signify by saying aye. Contrary. We are adjourned.
